The ICAR-National Academy of Agricultural Research Management (NAARM), Hyderabad announces a Training Programme on Agricultural Knowledge Communication from October 5-9, 2015 at Hyderabad

Background

In the present era of technology led communication, the dissemination of agriculture knowledge faces certain challenges due to involvement of variety of stakeholders such as scientists, farmers, extension functionaries, inputs suppliers etc. A number of models of agricultural knowledge sharing and transfer have been developed but appropriate interventions are needed to be developed for effective and meaningful communication. At global level, various agricultural knowledge sharing platforms such as GODAN, CIARD, agINFRA etc. are being developed which may be utilized for effective agricultural knowledge communication. A comprehensive training programme has been designed by the Academy. It encompasses a range of ICT mediated applications, data management tools, knowledge management initiative in ICAR and web based applications in a networked environment for the data sharing through open source knowledge management tools.

Objectives

- To upgrade the knowledge and skills of agricultural professionals for sharing of knowledge management process in research, education and extension organizations
- To bridge the existing gaps in knowledge generation, access, dissemination and applications for different clientele groups at national and global level.

Content

Open access tools for agriculture knowledge communications; database creation and databases and internet resources, data mining. Knowledge management using the anywhere platform, field lab, VDSA, ODK (Open Data Kit) and data verse etc. Library information system, OERs and on line collaboration tools. Open source tools, social media and their applications. One-day special module on knowledge management initiatives at global level with specific reference to GODAN, CIARD and AIMS is planned in partnership with FAO.

Methodology

The programme will consist of a class room teaching and practical sessions study visit to relevant organizations. The participants will have an opportunity to get more exposure in the area of knowledge communications.

It will help to develop a platform for facilitating extraction, storage, retrieval, integration, transformation, visualization, analysis, dissemination, and utilization of knowledge in agriculture and allied sectors.

Programme Fee

Non-ICAR participants: Rs 7,000/- which includes training kit/material, board, lodging charges of NAARM Guesthouses/Hostels excluding TA/DA. The participants from ICAR, there is no registration fee, however they have to pay board and lodging charges at an approximate cost of ₹600/- per day.
