Dear Sir,

NRC on Plant Biotechnology, IARI, Pusa Campus, New Delhi is going to organize a 21 days ICAR sponsored winter school on "Frontier technologies in the area of biotechnology on gene isolation, characterization and breeding with reference to abiotic stress related genes" from 10/12/2013 to 30/12/2013 for the Scientists and Professors of the ICAR institutes and Agricultural Universities.

The eligibility qualifications prescribed for the participants are: Assistant Professor/Associate Professor/Professor and equivalent scientists (Scientists, Sr. Scientist & Principal Scientist) working in Agricultural Universities and ICAR Institutes in the disciplines of Plant Molecular Biology/Biotechnology/Plant Biochemistry/ Genetics and Plant Breeding and allied sciences. The applicants possessing three years of research/teaching experience shall be given priority.

The selected candidates will be paid travel expenses as per entitlement restricted, however, to the maximum of AC II Tier/actual expense as the case may be. The participants will be lodged free-of-cost in the Guest House and expenses on boarding & lodging shall be met by us as per ICAR norms.

I request you to nominate one or two eligible candidates for the training course. The application form in the prescribed format (enclosed) should reach us latest by 5th November, 2013 (please note that this is the extended date from earlier date of 15th Oct 2013). Applications may also be sent by email (nrcpbws@gmail.com). The interested candidates need to enclose Rs 50/- in the form of demand draft in favor of Project Director, NRCPB payable at New Delhi.

With regards,

Yours sincerely
